

UNIVERSAL AXE AX1250

A SLITTING AXE FOR SPECIAL TASKS!

The AX2000 splitting axe is a tool for special tasks. You can easily cut down a tree with it, chop large logs for firewood or clean up your backyard orchard. It has a head weighing 2 kg, made of forged and hardened 45# carbon steel. Molded fiberglass reinforced plastic handle that is lightweight, moisture resistant and much stronger than traditional wooden handles.

The perfect balance increases the rotation speed and the convex wedge helps to multiply the splitting effect.
